

About Society.

He'd been speechless for days intellectual bonds broken now, the man spoke out to the commotion surrounding him: I believed you were deeper I trusted you possessed compassion I watched and listened to you, use your stern unrelenting meanness while proffering opinions that, can we agree, are not facts? your politically rote answers to my humanitarian questions ripped through my common sense and left me bewildered about you.
